

Yuba City Gives Awards For Scholarship, Service

An awards assembly at Yuba City High School, held the day of the graduation ceremonies, honored students for outstanding scholarship and service.

Bank of America award certificates were given to Ray Huston, music; Richard Wilbur, art; Barbara Burgreen, English; Jim Walther, social science; Penny Lockwood, languages; Carol Frey, business; Dan Mitchell, agriculture; Toni Andrews, home economics; Stan Matsumoto, industrial arts; Bob Loew, math; and Radhidul Choudhry, lab science. Trophies were awarded to Ray Huston, Fine Arts; Toni Andrews, Vocational Arts; Barbara Burgreen, Liberal Arts; and Bob Loew, Science and Mathematics.

The DeVon's Valedictorian Award was presented to Robin Coats.

Winners of University of California alumni scholarships were Bob Loew and Jim Walther.

Joanna Blevins was named the Daughters of the American Revolution "Outstanding Citizen" from among the senior girls.

Soroptimist "Girl of the Year" award went to Toni Andrews.

Robin Coats won the Exchange Club award; and the Exchange Club Talent Award went to Edith Reiersen.

A Midvalley Savings and Loan League award was presented to Joanne Blevins.

Certificate of Merit awards were won by Jim Nelson, David Hayes, Marsha Solomon, Bob Loew, and Penny Lockwood.

Finalists in the California State Scholarship competition were Jim Nelson, Bob Loew, Ruth Gots, Robin Coats, Marsha Solomon, Penny Lockwood, Victor Chikasawa, Mary Justeson, and Radhidul Choudhry.

Mary Justeson was awarded the Yuba-Sutter Business and Professional Women's scholarship.

Rhodes Jewelers presentations went to Polly Fitzgerald and Jim Nelson.

Science and math awards from the Yuba City Veterans of Foreign Wars went to Robin Coats in science and Radhidul Choudhry in math.

American Legion Citizenship awards were given to Elaine Bramlett and Jim Ullakko.

Winner of the faculty wives scholarship was Janice Boorman.

Honored as Life Members of California Scholarship Federation were Robin Coats, Jim Walther, Ron Larson, Pat Nakano, Mary Justeson, Radhidul Choudhry, Penny Lockwood, Ruth Gots, Marcy McKinsey, and Barbara Burgreen.

Ruth Gots was awarded the Melvin Jones scholarship.

Band awards were presented to Janet Hayes, outstanding freshman; Les Evans, John Phillip Souza award; and Les Evans, Jim Walther, Ray Huston, and Dan Bartlett, John Phillip Souza pins.

Breuners art awards were given to Drew Salles, Joe Borski, Diana Rhodes, Richard Wilbur, and Marilyn Litwin.

Winners of photography awards were Helen Muller and Joe Gibson.

Marsha Solomon was honored as Betty Crocker Homemaker of the Year.

Choir awards went to Janet Steininger, Pete Holcombe, and Edith Reiersen.

Receiving industrial arts awards were John Blanchard, Pete Halcombe, Larry Mac Math, George Carpenter, Pat Keathly, John Sloulin, Richard Wilbur, and Bob Cook. Special industrial arts awards were presented to Carl Ries and Mike Thunen.

The Letterman scholarship was given to Jim Ullakko.

Named Athlete of the Year and presented the trophy was Ray Huston.

Masquers awards for Best Actor and Best Actress went to

Yuba City Awards

(Continued from Page 2, Sec. B) Keith Marran, and Roxanne Bartlett.

Winners of class activity award were Linda Baker, Anita Christensen, Kathy Devers, Maria Nason, and Roxanne Bartlett, freshman class; Stephanie Williams, Mike Jones, Susan Kelly, Patty Leach, Jim Lutz, and Terry Strom, sophomore class; Bill Reichfertig, Russ Goodman, Laura Ulmer, Karen Carash, Lorene Wormley, Jack Sadler, and Anne Marsh, junior class; and Toni Andrews, Joanne Blevins, Dot Dahlgren, Pat Henry, Jim Nelson, Vicky Silva, Mary Lou Bibeau, Elaine Bramlett, Polly Fitzgerald, Bob Loew, Cynthia Paillex, and Diana Smith, senior class.

Van Guards awards went to Karen Carash, Van; Karen Swinson, Guard, and to Patti Christensen, Lorene Warmley, Ann Marsh, Laura Ulmer, Adele Fujii, and Janet Strain.

(Continued on Page 8, Sec. B)